

Head Light Communications announces General Availability of Talent®
Application Suite Version 3.5

The Talent® Application Suite comprises Talent 360®, Talent 180®, Talent Navigator® and Talent Spotter®. Each application enables HR teams, both internal and those provided by external consultants, to improve the performance of the key Talent Management processes of recruitment, retention, development and progression. The applications are integrated and are available individually or in combination.

This release of the suite announced today has taken its direction and input from a growing and active user community of HR professionals. Each application from the suite has advanced substantially beyond the capabilities of their main competitors and together they form a highly functional, easy to use, powerful and unique set of tools.

Ian Lee-Emery, Managing Director of Head Light Communications comments, 'We keep a close eye on developments in the marketplace and enjoy strong relationships with our customers. This has enabled us, on one hand to keep our applications ahead of the competition and on the other, to innovate by drawing on the considerable expertise, drive and vision of our customer and consultant client base.'

The Talent® application suite is available as both client-premise installed software or as hosted applications in our UK and US data centres.
